BECKHAM WINS BY EIGHT THOUSAND

McCreary Will Contest On Ground of Fraud.

Hager Has Majority of Thirty Thousand and Hendrick Beyond Computation.

RETURNS ARE NEARLY ALL IN

Louisville, Ky., November 8.—All but 14 precincts out of 2,060 in the state give Governor Beckham a majority of 6,732 over Senator James B. McCreary for the nomination for United States senator. The missing precincts are nearly all in the Tenth and Eleventh districts, both of which went for Beckham by large majorities. Beckham carried the first, third, fourth, ninth, tenth and eleventh districts, the second, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth going to McCreary. Beckham's majority in the state probably will be 8,000. Hager wins by nearly 30,000. Hendrick shows under Carter, while Newman has a small lead over Crenshaw, and it will take the official returns to determine the result.

Senator McCreary is here in conference with his friends and it is almost certain that he will contest Beckham's apparent nomination for the senatorship. Fraud is alleged to have been committed in counties on the Tennessee line.

Hoch Wins by 4,000. Topeka, Nov. 8.—The latest returns show Hoch (Republican) elected governor of Kansas by 4,000.

Republican Senator. Boise, Idaho, Nov. 8.—Governor Gooding, Republican, was re-elected by a plurality of 7,000 to 9,000. The legislature is Republican and will elect a successor to United States Senator DuBois, Democrat.

Will Contest Election. Salt Lake, Nov. 8.—A. T. Powers, gentle and Democrat, probably will file notice of contest against Joseph Howell, Mormon and Republican, elected congressman at large from Utah, on the ground of church intimidation of voters.

Landslide for Cummins. Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 8.—Returns in Iowa are still incomplete, but there is every reason to believe that Cummins will receive at least 20,000 plurality over Porter, Democrat. The Republican state committee confidently expects 25,000 plurality and the Democrats concede 5,000.

Result in Missouri. St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 8.—From nearly complete returns from all counties, the Democrats have carried the state by a plurality of 7,640, electing all candidates on the state ticket and 12 out of 16 congressmen. The Republicans elected congressmen in Kansas City and St. Louis and lost all districts in the state which had been swept in the Republican ranks two years ago.

Cook County Republicans. Chicago, Ill., Nov. 8.—Complete returns from the city and Cook county, show that the Republicans have elected every candidate with the exception of three congressmen.

Idaho 9,000 Republican. Boise, Idaho, Nov. 8.—Governor Gooding is re-elected by a plurality of 7,000 to 9,000. The legislature will contain 48 Republicans and 24 Democrats. This insures the election of William Borah as United States senator to succeed DuBois.

Higgins Defeats Uter. Providence, R. I., Nov. 8.—James H. Higgins, the Democratic candidate for governor has a plurality of 1,238 over Governor George H. Uter, Republican. The legislature is Republican.

Make Up of Congress. Washington, Nov. 8.—President Roosevelt's appeal for a Republican congress was not in vain. With the count still going on the result so far shows the election of 212 Republican congressmen, 154 Democrats, with 20 districts to be heard from.

There are 386 seats to be filled in the house, and should the Democrats get the remaining 20 they would still

RATE LAW HEARING GOES OVER

Action on Case Adjourned From Chicago to Kansas City Postponed.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 8.—The rate hearing growing out of the enforcement of the Missouri maximum freight rate law, which was adjourned to this city from Chicago, has been postponed until Monday, Nov. 12, because of the absence from the city of Attorney General Hadley.

Judge Nehan Dies. Springfield, Ill., Nov. 8.—Circuit Judge Nehan died at his home in Mason City today after an illness of several weeks. He was one of the most prominent Democrats in this section of the state.

FIVE CASES

FOR POACHING WILL COME BEFORE MAGISTRATE.

Captain T. J. Moore, County Game Warden, Says Hunters Are Growing Wary.

Captain T. J. Moore, county game warden bagged two more hunters yesterday, Neely Griffin, and Luther Dawson of Rowlandtown, both colored. They were hunting rabbits near the Pines, and said they did not know that it was against the law. This makes over a half dozen arrests for poaching.

This afternoon five cases will come before Magistrate Emery, presented by Captain Moore. They are all for poaching. They are Garfield Tabscott, Charles Barber and George Overstreet, white, and Neely Griffin and Luther Dawson.

"Hunters are getting wary," remarked Captain Moore, "and they are hard to catch. But I think I am accomplishing the purpose I was appointed for—to break up poaching and preserve the birds."

ALDERMEN

WILL MEET TONIGHT IN REGULAR SESSION.

One Member Has Some "New Business," But Does Not Know How It Will Be Received.

The board of aldermen meet tonight in regular session. There are few matters of importance pending, but the report of the city engineer, estimating the cost of the sewer in district, No. 2, based on the square feet of superficial area, will be received.

It is understood that several new matters will be introduced, and Alderman W. T. Miller said he has some "new business" to propose, but he does not know how it will be received.

It is understood that the paving of Broadway and Jefferson streets from Ninth street to the railroad crossings will be considered, and the plans for sewer district, No. 3, also will be taken up this month.

SECRET TRIAL

OF CASTELLANE DIVORCE CASE IS GRANTED.

Wife Wins First Fight in Famous Suit in Courts of Paris—Submitted in Writing.

Paris, Nov. 8.—Countess De Castellane has won the first contest in the suit for divorce against her husband, who beat her. It will be no open trial case. Judges will decide the question of divorce on the documentary evidence submitted. This determination was announced today with the statement that the verdict be rendered next Thursday.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

BITTER PILL FOR THE BECKHAM MEN

Is Triumph Of McCreary Faction In Paducah.

County Is Carried By The Senator By Majority of 182—Meeting Held Tomorrow.

ELECTION BOARD IS CALLED.

It was a mighty bitter pill for the Beckham men to swallow the local victory of McCreary's supporters in the recent Democratic primary, and the struggle between the candidates for the senatorial nomination has created a well defined schism in the city and county organization. Charges of corruption of the ballot are being freely and openly made, and the Beckham men charge the McCreary men with going out boldly and buying the vote.

The Beckham men were certain of victory, and expected to go out of Paducah at least 290 or 300 to the good. The result rather tempered their pleasure in the victory in the state, and they will not forget what was done Tuesday when next election day rolls around.

McCreary's majority in the whole county by 182. Hays carried the county by 22 and Hendrick by 4,513. The result as tabulated by County Chairman W. A. Berry shows: Senator—Beckham, 863; McCreary, 1,045.

Governor—Hager, 771; Hays, 793. Atty Genl.—Hendrick, 1,649; Carter, 136.

Chairman Berry will convene the county committee tomorrow to canvass the returns of the primary in the county.

Sheriff John W. Ogilvie has called the election commissioners to meet tomorrow and canvass the vote in the municipal election and the congressional race between Ollie James and Dr. J. D. Smith. The other two members of the commission are Hon. J. S. Ross, Democrat, and Will Farley, Republican.

BIG BETS

BEING PAID OFF ON WALL STREET TODAY.

Million and Half Dollars Gambled Away Through Brokers in New York.

New York, Nov. 8.—Stakeholders of election bets in the Wall street district began to pay off bets and "pay day," as the day following election is called, was generally observed by all the layers of odds.

It was generally estimated that approximately $1,500,000 was wagered during the recent campaign. Most of this was laid at odds ranging from 2 to 1 to 5 to 1. Probably $200,000 was laid on the size of Hughes' plurality.

Some of the biggest betters were W. W. Bagley, who laid $137,000 on the result of the contest and $32,500 on the plurality. He bet mainly on Hughes for his clients and customers of stock exchange houses whom he represents. M. Joseph laid $42,000 for customers and won for himself; G. B. Buchanan laid between $60,000 and $70,000. Allen & McGraw & Co. laid $40,000 on Hays and $20,000 on Hughes.

BANDITS ROB TRAIN AT DEPOT

Passengers Relieved of Valuables While Crew Is at Breakfast.

Gallup, N. M., Nov. 8.—While west-bound Santa Fe passenger train No. 1 was standing on the tracks here early today three men, armed with revolvers, entered the coaches and forced the passengers to hold up their hands. They secured several hundred dollars in money and several grips and overcoats from the passengers and made their escape. The crew at the time was in the dining room.

Kindness Saves Hunter. Because he shot a quail for a sick woman, Garfield Tabscott was dismissed by Magistrate Emery today on the charge of shooting game out of season. Game warden Moore declined to prosecute him under the circumstances.

MAY GET MARRIED IF SHE BEHAVES

Girl Put On Year's Probation By Judge Lightfoot.

Young Man Offers to Marry Agnes Hollman, Who Is Sentenced to Reform School.

SHE IS TOO YOUNG TO WED

On her conduct for the next 12 months depends whether or not Agnes Hollman may marry the man of her choice. She is sentenced to the reform school, but Hugh Tandy, of 324 Husbands street, wishes to marry her.

He made that proposition this morning to prevent her being sent to the reform school at Lexington.

On account of the extreme youth of the girl, and the belief that marriage now would result disastrously, Judge Lightfoot declined to accept such a solution and ordered patrolman Courtney Long to proceed to Lexington with her.

Agnes Hollman is the girl whose mother could not control her. The mother asked Judge Lightfoot to send the girl to the reform school. This he did, giving her three years. This morning, when the proposition was made to Judge Lightfoot, the court did not desire to stand absolutely in the way of their marriage and reduced the sentence to one year in the reform school, after which, if she has improved, they may marry.

The young man came down to the court house this morning shortly before train time and made the proposition. When the judge made his decision, the girl went to the street car to go to the depot, crying, but Tandy advised her that she only had one year to stay there.

Hugh Tandy works for the Langstaff-Orm Manufacturing company. He appears to be 21 years old. The proposal of marriage by Hugh Tandy to Agnes Hollman occupied so much time this morning that Patrolman Courtney Long missed the 11:20 o'clock Louisville train. He will leave tonight for Lexington with the girl.

PRIVATE QUARREL

Resulted in Murder by Congressman in Louisiana.

Baton Rouge, Nov. 8.—Private quarrel is still the only explanation given for the killing of Dr. Aldrich by Congressman-elect Favrot. It is said, Aldrich had been warned that Favrot would shoot him on sight; but for what reasons was not given. It is said, friends of Favrot, with whom he consulted, advised him to act as he did. He made up his mind to kill Aldrich and so informed him.

Little Opposition to the Proposed Measure Shown at Polls.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 8.—A vote was taken today throughout Delaware on the initiative and referendum. It was not opposed to any extent and will be adopted.

PLANT IS READY FOR NEW MACHINES

Superintendent Keebler In Waiting Attitude.

Will Require Only Two Days to Get Lighting Plant in Full Operation.

HAS HEARD FEW COMPLAINTS.

Just waiting. That is the attitude of Superintendent Keebler, of the city lighting plant. The new switchboard for the enlarged plant is in place, all the new lamps are on the streets, properly wired. The foundation for the new machinery is in place. He is just waiting for the machinery to arrive. It was shipped two weeks ago—a car load—and should be here tomorrow or Saturday.

"I will take up only two days to install the plant," he said. "We have everything ready to receive it, and the work will be confined to putting the machinery in place and the pieces together. Then we will hitch right onto the lights."

"I have been expecting to hear more complaint than I have heard. The contract for the plant was let July 19 and it was to be ready in six to eight weeks. But every factory in the country is behind and we couldn't get material, even for the wiring, not to say fixing up the old lights. The consequence is the service is not up to standard at present, but I did not feel like spending $500 or $600 fixing up the old lamps for two weeks' time."

LITTLE HOPE

HERMAN BOREN ALREADY PARALYZED AS RESULT OF INJURY.

Surgeons Reduce Fracture of Young Man's Spine—Hurt Under Falling Tree.

In the examination of Herman Boren, the young man who had his spine broken Tuesday afternoon by a tree falling on him, it was found that his spine was broken in the middle of the back and the break is a clean one. Already paralysis of the intestines has set in. The fracture was set this morning, and should he survive the accident, he never will have the use of the lower part of his body.

But the doctors entertain little hope of his recovery, owing both to the effect of the fracture of the spine and to the fact that paralysis has set in. Dr. Frank Boyd assisted by other surgeons set the broken spine this morning at Riverside hospital. Boren lives in the Hard Money neighborhood of the county.

FATHER DEAD; CHILDREN SAVED

Building Falls While Being Moved at Marysville, Ohio.

Marysville, Ohio, Nov. 8.—Al Viengle, aged 45, was killed today while moving a building, and his two young daughters, who were playing beneath the house, were caught under the structure, but were rescued by a large crowd of people after several hours' hard work. ## HUSBAND SLEPT

WIFE'S THROAT CUT AND BRAINS BEATEN OUT.

Police and Coroner in Louisville Mystified By Crime—Daughter Found Her.

Louisville, Nov. 8.—Mystery which the police and coroner have so far been unable to solve surrounds the murder of Mrs. Virginia Ely at her home, 2516 Brook street, shortly after midnight. Mrs. Ely was found dying in her bed by her 14-year-old daughter Anna. Blood was gushing from a wound in Mrs. Ely's throat, the wound extending almost from ear to ear. On top of the head is another wound, made by some sharp instrument, presumably a hatchet. This wound penetrated through the skull and into the brain.

John B. Ely, the woman's husband, was sleeping in the front room of the cottage, through which, it is believed, the murderer gained an entrance to the house. The window in this room, facing on Brook street, was found raised. No arrests have been made.

NO SESSION

IS BELIEF OF SENATOR WHEELER CAMPBELL.

Sees No Reason for Such Action and Does Not Know Whether It Would Carry.

"I do not believe Governor Beckham intends to call an extra session of the legislature to consider legislation having special reference to the Louisville 'lid,'" said State Senator Wheeler Campbell today.

"I do not see the necessity of it myself, nor do I think the governor feels such a pressing necessity for immediate legislation as would lead him to call a special session. More than that, I do not know whether he could command a majority in favor of whatever measure he would approve. This is not intimating what my own position would be, but the legislature was not elected on any such issue, and the members probably would exercise their individual judgment."

BLAME

FOR THOROUGHFARE WRECK ON BRIDGE TENDER.

Aged Man Will Be Arrested on the Charge of Criminal Negligence—Sixty Deaths.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 8.—After a stormy scene lasting several hours, the coroner's jury last night decided to place the blame for the Thoroughfare wreck upon Daniel Stewart, the aged bridge tender. The jury disagreed on many points.

Stewart will be arrested on a charge of criminal negligence. Sixty persons were killed in the wreck.

RESULT A REBUKE TO THE DEMAGOGUE

Says Governor-Elect Hughes, of New York.

All Offices Below That of Governor Are in Doubt and Will Count.

SECOND PLACE CLOSE RACE

New York, Nov. 8.—Until the boards of county canvassers meet on Tuesday to report the vote, the question of whether the Republicans or Democrats from lieutenant governor down were elected, probably will be in doubt. The latest unofficial returns indicate the Democratic ticket with the exception of Hearst, was elected.

New York, Nov. 8.—"It is a victory for sobriety and for decency in the administration of the government," said Governor-elect Hughes. "But the people will not tolerate indifference to public wrongs. They desire neither exaggeration nor inflammatory appeal on the one hand nor moral or political obtuseness on the other hand. The election is a rebuke to demagogical methods and it is also impressive in its demands for responsible leadership."

"I shall address myself to the task of squaring the administration of the government with the interest of the people confident that I may rely upon the support of all good citizens, not only those who voted for me but also those who, in the intensity of their desire to overcome abuses, voted for my opponent. To the work of insuring, to the extent of my power, the just administration of the government of this state I shall devote myself unreservedly."

At midnight there was still doubt as to who is elected lieutenant governor. Sixteen counties had not reported the official count at that hour but on the face of the figures in hand the result favored Lewis S. Chanler, the Democratic and Independence League nominee.

The total vote for the state as far as returned, including the Democratic stronghold of greater New York, for lieutenant governor, is Chanler 604,234; Bruce 519,479.

It appears that outside of governor, and possibly lieutenant governor, the Democratic ticket is elected.

For lieutenant governor, Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, the Democratic and Independence league candidate has the lead in greater New York by 134,941. Up state, M. Linn Bruce, Republican, is running slightly ahead of the Hughes vote. As Hughes came down to greater New York with a lead of approximately 129,000, it will readily be seen that the vote for the second place will be very close and only the complete official count will determine the successful candidate.

EIGHTY-TON FLY-WHEEL BURST.

Whitaker Iron Works Plant at Wheeling Is Wrecked.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 8.—A thirty-foot flywheel, weighing eighty tons, burst at the Whitaker iron works today, scattering the heavy metal in every direction. A great section of the roof of the mill was blown off, heavy pieces flying 500 feet against neighboring plants and on the mill side, while the floor of the engine room was driven through the ground. Fortunately the workmen had sufficient warning to make their escape.

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

To Pass Law Nailing Down Louisville Lid.

Hearing of Assessment Case Before State Board of Railroad Commissioners.

FATAL FIGHT ABOUT MONEY.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 8.—A close friend of Gov. Beckham said today that he felt certain that the governor would call an extra session of the legislature to deal with the Louisville "lid." He further said that he thought the governor would ask the legislature to aid him in enforcing the law, and that there would be submitted to the general assembly a bill much like that now in force in New York, whereby the governor of the commonwealth has the power to remove any city officer who is derelict in his duties, and can appoint a new mayor or other official, who will see that the laws are carried out.

The governor's friends are hot about the way he was slaughtered in Louisville and Lexington and Covington, and say that the whisky people contributed hundreds of thousands to the fight on the governor.

The next few weeks promise sensational doings about Frankfort.

INDIAN BOY DISRUPTS SCHOOL. White Parents at Cache, Okla., Re- sist Attendance of Comanche.

Lawton, Okla., Nov. 8.—A report from Cache states that nearly two-thirds of the pupils in the school at that place have been taken out of school because Quannah Parker, Jr., a Comanche Indian boy seven years old, has been permitted to enter. Young Quannah was taken to school by his father about two weeks ago. In a few days parents were taking their children from school. In a few days other pupils were taken out, and now the school is practically at a standstill because of the presence of the little Indian. Principal J. A. Dickson has appealed to the school board to get the Indian out. This will probably be done. The young Indian has been a recalcitrant ever since his day of entry. He didn't want to attend a white school, and avowed that he wouldn't, but the hopeful Comanche chief remonstrated against the youngster and kept him in school by remaining there a good part of the time himself. The boy refuses to recite when called upon and continues to reiterate his determination not to remain in the school.

BEEMAN, OF GUM FAME, DEAD Originator of Pepsin Chewing prod- uct Expires in Cleveland.

Cleveland, Nov. 8.—Dr. Edwin E. Beeman, known throughout the country as a manufacturer of chewing gum, died early today. Twenty-five years ago Dr. Beeman quit the practice of medicine to make gum, and later he was associated with W. J. White, now of New York. Dr. Beeman made a fortune of several million dollars, as did Mr. White. It is said that the idea of combining pepsin with chewing gum was suggested to Beeman by a young woman who worked in a news stand where he bought chewing gum. At any rate, after Beeman had adopted the idea and was making money out of it he employed the young woman and saw that she was well taken care of when he disposed of his gum business.

HIRED MAN BEATS PROFESSOR M. S. Pupin, Scientist, Defeated for Legislature by His Employee.

Winsted, Conn., Nov. 8.—Professor M. S. Pupin, Columbia University instructor and inventor of the ocean telephone, was defeated in Norfolk for the legislature today by his hired man, Matthew O'Brien, a stonemason, by sixteen majority. The vote stood: O'Brien, 171; Pupin, 156. The other successful candidate for representative is also a Democrat, Warren Corbally, a coachman. Laborers voted against Professor Pupin because they said he brought workmen from San Francisco to work on his large country estate. O'Brien worked hard to defeat his employer, taking a day off. Professor Pupin did not electioneer.

HOLD-UP STORY HELD A RUSE

Cashier of Express Company, Alleged Victim of Robbery, Loses Job.

Burlington, Iowa, Nov. 8.—L. M. Berry, cashier of the United States Express company's office here, who alleged he had been snugged by a man, who then stole $200, was discharged today by the company. The police state the evidence was strong that Berry himself had taken the money and invented the story of the robbery. The detectives found Berry had been spending money freely. The large dark bruise on his face, which he exhibited as the mark of the robber's club, it is alleged, was produced by acid.

I. C. PRESIDENT IS RAILROAD MAN

Mr. Harahan Knows Every Detail of Business.

Has Had Charge of Operating Department Sixteen Years and Knows the System.

THE STOCKHOLDERS LIKE HIM

The Chicago Post, anticipating the election of Mr. Harahan, gives a full sketch of the career of the Illinois Central's new president. Mr. Harahan has many friends in Paducah, and they will read the sketch with interest. It is here given:

J. T. Harahan has been the operating head of the Illinois Central system since November 1, 1890. The system as it stands today is a different one from that of which he took charge 16 years ago. By absorption and extension it has added many hundreds of miles to its total length and increased its earning power many fold.

All the extension work accomplished has taken place under Mr. Harahan's personal supervision. He knows every foot of the roadway.

There is no part of the work of railroad operation with which Mr. Harahan is not practically familiar. He knows the process of tamping a tie. He knows every section of the machinery of which a locomotive is composed, and could put them together like an expert machinist. He can take out a long freight train and handle the throttle as efficiently as the most skillful engineer.

While deprived at the beginning of his career of a technical training, Mr. Harahan recognizes the desirability of possessing such an experience. The pioneer period in railroad-ing, in his opinion, has passed, and the successful manager of the future must understand the whys and wherefores of every action. He must be the master of the principles of operation. Science and practice must be combined. Mr. Harahan, therefore, is the warm advocate of technical schools for railroad men, or, rather for the youth who aims at devoting himself to a railroad career.

In this respect Mr. Harahan's election is regarded as in the nature of a compromise, which will be agreeable to the large number of small stockholders living along the lines of the system or in the territory tributary to it. They appreciate that there is no one to whom the road owes a larger share of its present efficiency and prosperity.

VANDERBILT SEEKS MORE CASH.

George W. Reduces Expenses and Charges Admission to Baltimore.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 8.—The strike of teamsters and drivers at Baltimore is regarded as one of the results of George W. Vanderbilt's recently enforced policy of rigid economy. He now charges an admission fee to his estate, which formerly was open to the public. He has done away with heads of departments and is managing things himself. He also has raised the prices of butter, milk and wood, with which he has been supplying Asheville for years. The drivers' demand for higher wages being refused, in pursuance of his policy of retrenchment, the strike followed. The strikers show no signs of weakening, and, as Mr. Vanderbilt's home is five miles from the village of Baltimore, and drivers and teamsters of the village and of Asheville refuse to take the places of the strikers, Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt are forced to remain closely at home.

THIEF ADMITS 3 MURDERS.

Slaying of San Francisco Merchant and Banker Are Cleared Up.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Louis Dabner this afternoon confessed to Chief of Detectives Duke that he and John Slemesen, who was arrested with him for an assault on Jeweler Behrend last Saturday, had committed a number of the crimes that recently have startled the city. He stated that he and Slemesen killed William Pitzner and William Friede merchants, robbed the Japanese bank and murdered Cashier N. Hunataka and also robbed Dr. T. D. W. Leland, though for this crime another man is now serving imprisonment. Dabner made a full and free statement regarding all these and other crimes of which he and Slemesen had been suspected since their arrest. Dabner stated that the amount taken from the Japanese bank was $4,200.

INGENIOUS YANKEE. Tackles Woodpiles With a Buzz-Saw Attached to His Automobile.

At Indian Orchard, Mass., an automobile that saws wood is one of the sights of the town. Its owner motors around the streets until he is hailed by some one who wishes to have some wood sawed, and then he clambers out and sets the buzz saw fastened to the rear of the machine in motion.

Andre La Roches, who owns the automobile, is a sawyer of wood by trade, and his chief assistant in his work was an old mare. A short time ago, however, he secured a "swap" trade an automobile for pleasure purposes alone. Finally he invented the contrivance which enables the machine to help him earn his living. He attached a circular saw to the rear of the body of the machine in such a way that he can connect it with his motor, and he added to the equipment a large tank of water to cool the same, as the machine was apt to get overheated when working too rapid. A carrier for holding the logs to be sawed was fastened to the rear and the autowood-sawing machine was ready for work.

Now he chug-chugs in style up to a wood pile, backs his machine in, connects the saw with the motor, and cuts up a cord of wood in about ten minutes. If it is a big job, he employs a boy to pass him the sticks and take away the pieces.

The fame of his machine is extended beyond the confines of Indian Orchard, and he often rides 20 miles to tackle a wood pile. He intends to have the invention patented.

GERMAN NOBLEMAN A SUICIDE? Wisconsin Pauper Said to Have Once Stood High in Royal Circles.

Milwaukee, Nov. 8.—Henry Basse, who was found in a dying condition in Wauwatosa and died at the county hospital, is said to be a member of the German nobility who has wealthy children in Germany. Basse is said to have served with distinction in the German army and to have married a rich widow. His habits killed her after they had been married four years and she left her property, valued at $1,000,000, to her two daughters. Basse came to this country and drifted to Appleton. He became a vagrant and was sent to the Outagamie poor house, where he was nursed back to health. While in the institution he told his history to some of the attaches. He remained about Appleton for ten years. He often threatened suicide. He divested himself of everything which he thought would lead to his identification and shot himself on the grounds of the Lutheran Old Folks' home.

FINDS COFFIN MODEL IN MAIL.

Military Secretary at Delver Startled
by Package From Crank.

Denver, Nov. 8.—When Lieutenant Colonel Thomas F. Davis, military secretary of the department of the Colorado, United States army, opened his mail a few days ago he came across a large brown registered envelope, sent from Cripple Creek, and addressed to the army headquarters, Denver. It weighed perhaps half a pound.

The colonel opened it hurriedly and then jumped. For out of the envelope fell the model of a coffin, cut from a cigar box, and covered with black satin, which had been cut and pasted on with mullage.

The coffin was written over with strange devices and a couple of sheets of writing paper scrawled over from top to bottom with daggers and skulls and cross-bones. The coffin, he explained, was sent to hold the general staff when he got through with them.

O Ye Tears.

The president of one of the well known colleges tells this story of one of his professors of chemistry: It seems that the professor and his wife had not agreed upon some domestic question, the professor asserting that his means would warrant the expense involved. His wife had used all her powers of persuasion without avail, and at last resorted to the final feminine expedient—a flood of tears. At this the professor picked up his hat, but paused to remark:

"You might save yourself the trouble of that, my dear; your tears have absolutely no effect upon me. Why should they, being nothing but common water with a very small percentage of phosphorous salts and a trace of chloride of sodium?"—Harper's Weekly.

In the ordinary heater the draft enters the front, passes up through the fire and out the flue at the top. In this way only about 60 per cent of the burnable properties of your fuel are consumed, the rest passes up the flue unburned in the form of gases and smoke. In the the Hot Blast Down-Draft enters from the top, circulates throughout and over the fire and produces perfect combustion, which consumes all of the burnable elements in your fuel; thus the Wilson will give you 40 per cent more heat with a given amount of soft coal than any other heater, or in other words, your fuel bill will be reduced 40 per cent.

MEN KENTUCKIANS WOULD KNOW ABOUT

Charles Evans Hughes, The Insurance Prober.

Governor Beckham, Speaker of the House at Twenty-Two and Never Defeated.

HAGER HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL.

Charles Evans Hughes, governor-elect of New York state, has been a conspicuous figure in the public eye since the summer of 1905, when as the attorney for the Armstrong insurance investigation committee, he compelled the gaze of the world by forcing open to the light of day hitherto closed volumes of insurance scandal. Since that time he has been spoken of with unusual frequency as a likely candidate for public office, although he has attended strictly to the affairs of his legal practice, not intimating the slightest desire to enter the political field. Mr. Hughes was born in Glens Falls, N. Y., April 11, 1862. By his father, the Rev. D. C. Hughes, and his mother, whose maiden name was Mary Catherine Connolly, it was confidently supposed that young Charles would follow the ministry as a profession.

When the future lawyer was still a lad, his parents moved to Newark, N. J. Here young Hughes entered the public school, from which he was graduated in 1872. The educational advantages of New York, however, appealed to the elder Hughes, and he took Charles there, and entered him in "Old 35," in Thirtieth street, Manhattan, where the boy stayed for two years, graduating in 1875. He is one of the many famous men who have passed through the halls of this historic school.

After graduation he concluded to enter Madison University, at Hamilton, N. Y., now Colgate University. He remained here until 1878, when he entered Brown University. He had the honor of reading the classical oration on commencement day, 1881.

In 1882 Mr. Hughes went to New York and entered Columbia Law school, from which he was graduated in June, 1884 and passed his bar examination the same year. During one year of his term in Columbia he was a student in the office of United States District Attorney Stewart L. Woodford. In 1883 he entered as a clerk in the office of Chamberlain, Carter & Hornblower. In 1887 he married Miss Antoinette Carter, a daughter of Walter S. Carter, a member of the firm.

Because of threatened ill-health, due to overwork, he accepted a professorship at law in Cornell University, in 1891. Two years later, entirely himself again, he moved back to New York, this time as "working member" of the new firm of Carter, Hughes & Dwight. Since then he has carried many an intricate case successfully through the courts, winning recognition second to none among the lawyers and judges of the state.

The insurance prober is a member of the Baptist church. He was one of the organizers of the "Rockefeller Bible Class." In politics he is a Republican, but he has never sought elective or appointive public office, nor was he ever nominated for one until last October, when the Republican city convention decided to make him its mayoralty candidate. He refused to run.

Governor Beckham.

J. C. W. Beckham, governor of Kentucky, and Democratic candidate for United States senator, enjoys the double distinction of being the youngest governor of any state in the country, and at the same time the governor who has been the longest time in service.

Mr. Beckham is no thirty years of age, and he has been governor of Kentucky for seven years. He has one year yet to serve, and by the time he lays down the office of governor he will have served as governor for nearly eight years.

Gov. Beckham comes of a distinguished Kentucky family. By his father's side he is a descendent from the Beckham family, and his mother was a Wickliffe. He was speaker of the Kentucky house of representatives in 1893. In 1899 he was nominated for lieutenant governor. In November, 1900, he defeated John W. Yerkes for election for the short term for governor by a majority of 5,000. In 1903 he defeated Col. M. B. Belknap, of Louisville by a majority of 28,000.

Since being governor he has elected Eli Brown speaker of the house, and Henry Lawrence speaker of another. He has defeated Jo Blackburn for the United States senate, and has elected Thomas H. Paynter to his place.

The Hon. Samuel W. Hager.

Judge S. W. Hager, Democratic candidate for governor was born in Gallipolis, O., in December, 1856. His father, William J. Hager, who married Phoebe Roache, of Gallia county, moved to Paintsville, Ky., and his family when Mr. Hager was but four years of age, and lived there until he settled in Magoffin county, Ky., a few years later.

The Hagers have lived in Paintsville and the Big Sandy country for many years. S. W. Hager attended State College, at Lexington, in 1882 and 1884. Mr. Hager was a merchant in Salyersville when he was married to Miss Bessie White, of Manchester, in 1885. They moved to Ashland in 1887, where he continued in the mercantile business. Many of the leading citizens recognized his business qualifications, and they unanimously chose him as president of their new bank, which position he held for several years.

His political career began when he was elected county judge of Boyd county in 1897. He was nominated and elected state treasurer in 1899 and state auditor in 1903.

ENDS LIFE AS CHILDREN-PLAY

Veteran Newspaper Man Commits Suicide in Park in New York.

New York, Nov. 8.—With hundreds of children romping over the hillside on which he sat in Fort Greene Park, T. C. Evans, a veteran newspaper writer and former friend and associate of Horace Greeley, committed suicide today by firing a bullet into his brain. He was suffering from a cancerous growth on the jaw and left a letter to the coroner stating that his sufferings were unendurable. Mr. Evans had devoted his life to newspaper work and was the author of several historical works, which supplied him a large income. His most widely known book was titled "Many Men."

HOT SPRINGS DOCTOR WINS SUIT

Federal Court of Appeals Reverses Bath-House Decision.

St. Paul, Nov. 8.—The judgment of the United States district court was reversed by the circuit court of appeals in the case of Thomas B. Rider, of Arkansas, against the United States. The government charged that Rider was not registered as a physician and was not authorized to grant a permit to any person to bathe in any of the bath houses of the Hot Springs Mountain Reservation. He had been fined $100 by the district court. The circuit court of appeals directed the circuit court to vacate the judgment and discharge the case.

SUSPENDS 80 RIOTING STUDENT

Faculty Takes Action in Row Over Basket-Ball at Augustana College.

Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 8.—As the result of a series of indignities, caused by a riotous demonstration, heaped upon the heads of members of the board of directors of Augustana college recently after a stand had been taken against intercollegiate basket-ball, over 80 students were today suspended until Monday by the faculty.

Irish Monarch's Colors.

New York, Nov. 8.—When the Irish Monarch, a British tramp steamship, was about to sail from Brooklyn for Australian ports today the longshoremen who were about to cast off the lines observed that there was no green flag flying. Shouting that the ship was no Irish Monarch without a green flag, they called on Captain Graham to hoist one. There was an exchange of words and the longshoremen declared they never would throw off the lines until the Monarch flew a bit of green, and that Captain Graham finally ran up a green flag with a golden harp. The Monarch was delayed fifteen minutes.

Uncle Sam Can Save $60,000,000.

The United States imports annually about $60,000,000 worth of drugs and dyes made from products that could be grown in the United States just as well. Camphor now sells for 25 cents a pound, and while not an ounce of it is grown in this country, the government has demonstrated that camphor trees are successful here. Licorice root is another thing that possesses great possibilities. The department of agriculture has demonstrated that the licorice plant is hardy as far north as Pennsylvania. Belladonna has also been shown to do well in good garden soil.—Farming.

A Fireside Romance.

"Men and women are but men and women—not gods—very human and frail and faulty, and, adoring over keenly, they demand too much and forgive not at all." This is the burden of Justus Miles Forman's delightful love story in the November McClure's—one of those brief and exquisite bits of lyrical prose which read like a snatch of song. The story of the falling out of two young married lovers and their happy reconciliation is told with the tender, compassionate irony of one who envies while he smiles at the follies and extravagances of youth.

Daily Thought.

"You are not called upon to make a fuss about everything you cannot approve."

PRESIDENTS AND PRECEDENTS.

Did you hear a strange sound?
That was another precedent being smashed by President Roosevelt as he started for Panama. Once before he went out of sight of land in a boat and the constitution and the Declaration of Independence stood the shock. Roosevelt is subject to an irresistible impulse towards common sense, and that alone causes him to override some meaningless conventionalities that surround the occupant of the white house. They used to be more suspicious of the presidents than we are, and early citizens had no stomach for seeing the chief magistrate, at a good salary, gallivanting around the world, paying visits to the effete monarchies of the east. At one time, too, there was sound sense in the unwritten law that the president should not leave the United States. This was a compact country with no interests outside that needed the personal attention of the chief executive. Now we have island possessions that require the inspection of persons high in authority. For that reason cabinet officers under Roosevelt have made frequent trips to the Philippines and Puerto Rico. The Panama canal has been the sport of sensational writers and the despair of presidents. It is a mighty project, prolific in scandal.
Roosevelt is not satisfied with the information he is receiving, and is anxious to learn at first hand how much of truth has been said derogatory of the work; and make up his own mind from personal observations what legislation and method is necessary to get the work done expeditiously, well and economically. That looks like the business way of getting at the facts, and we will overlook the breach of precedent, seeing that he is going on business and not merely pleasure.

If you wish to know what the control of the Illinois Central by the Harriman interests means, remember that it brings close relationship with the Union Pacific and the Baltimore & Ohio systems, and try to estimate the possibilities of New Orleans as the nearest port to the Panama canal.
Then take down your map and trace the routes of the big railroad lines included in the combination. The Illinois Central extending south from Chicago to New Orleans traverses the Mississippi valley almost from its source to its mouth. At Chicago it connects with the Harriman lines west and taps the fertile plains and ore bearing lands. To the east it connects with the great Baltimore & Ohio system at Cincinnati, reaching Washington, Baltimore and New York. From the east and the west freight will converge and be carried over the Illinois Central to the gulf and there be transhipped to South America and the Orient via the Panama canal. Every railroad in the north has been striving to reach New Orleans since the canal was started.

This is about the biggest railroad move on the boards.

After reading all the state exchanges today, we have decided that when the state calls us to the executive chair or the forum, we will spend part of the campaign fund in providing real likenesses of ourself for the Kentucky press. Too many of those dissimilar pictures of Governor Beckham and Auditor Hager, are smudged where the letter of endorsement to the benevolent manufacturer of the proprietary compound was whittled away. It would have gone ill with Beckham if some of those alleged pictures had been circulated before the primary.

President Harahan, shake. Paducah liked Stuyvesant Fish, because he was a railroad man and not a speculator. But you are a railroad man, also, brought up in the same school and the system will not suffer.
Put, please, remember to keep on the map of your road that little black speck in western Kentucky, where so many of your lines converge.

Dr. A. D. James, third; J. B. Bennett, ninth; John W. Langley, tenth; D. C. Edwards, eleventh—all Republicans. That looks mighty hopeful for Old Kaintuck. The Old Commonwealth seems to be getting in line with the march of progress. A Republican senator would adorn that delegation well.

Judge Breathitt, of Hopkinsville, would be a strong candidate for the Republicans of Kentucky to nominate for governor. He is free from factional alliances and the friend of every leader. Next year looks promising to a united party.

Well, if it is such a source of satisfaction, The Sun will insist on sharing with its self-complacent Democratic contemporary the honor of reducing the Democratic majority from 690 to 159.

The Sun will not deny the statement that "the people are onto it." Our subscription books, which are open to the public, would prove that anyway. We have them on our list.

Rogers' precinct, containing fewer unenlightened voters than any other in the city, gave a majority of 11 for the water contract, and a majority of 37 for the park bonds.

Louisville is jubilant because her taxpayers have just burdened themselves with a $4,000,000 bond issue, with which to build a complete sewer system.

The Democratic organ is too modest. It should claim responsibility for everything that happened at the late municipal election.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

Will in Future Be Under Workings of Civil Service.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The president today made an order again classifying deputy collectors of internal revenue under the regulations of the civil service commission. There are about 1,100 of these deputies in the service of the government. They were classified by President Cleveland but were taken out by President McKinley in 1899.

The action of President Roosevelt brings all employees of the internal revenue service under civil service and practically classifies all employees of the treasury department.

'Twas a Fearsome Sneeze.

New York, Nov. 8.—"If sneezed?
Call an ambulance! Quick!" The man who spoke was Isidor Feinstein.
The person addressed was Sergeant Mill of Delancey street police station. The sergeant said that Isidor was in distress and Dr. Nathan soon arrived from a hospital. He said that Isidor had dislocated a collar bone.
While Doorman Leck and several policemen sat on Isidor, Dr. Nathan twisted back the dislocated collar bone, and warned Isidor to sneeze softly hereafter.

Big Chicago Fire.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 8.—Fire this morning in the mould plant of Angus & Mackey spread to several adjoining buildings before it was gotten under control. Loss is about $200-000.

Among the buildings destroyed are the Roby hotel, Leada Printing company and the dry goods store of H. J.
Bourne & company. The Roby hotel was completely destroyed but all guests escaped without injury. By hard work the firemen saved the Lowis institute.

heavy stockholder in the Bankers National. His health deranged his mind.

not have the control.

The most sanguine prediction put out by Chairman Sherman previous to the election was that the Republicans would retain control of the House by 50.

As the returns stand now, the Democrats have gained 21 districts held in the present congress by Republicans as follows:

Illinois, 2; Indiana, 1; Iowa, 1; Missouri, 4; Nebraska, 1; New York, 1; New Jersey, 1; North Carolina, 1; Ohio, 3; Pennsylvania, 5;
and Wisconsin, 1.

In Illinois the defeated Republicans are Rives and Dickson, of the Twenty-first and Twenty-third districts; in Indiana, Cromer of the Eighth; in Iowa, Lacey of the Sixth; in Missouri, Fulkerson of the Fourth; Ellis, of the Fifth, Welborn, of the Seventh, and Caulkins, of the Fifteenth; in Nebraska, Kennedy of the Second; in New York, Wadsworth of the Thirty-fourth; in New Jersey, Pickett of the Ninth; in North Carolina, Blackburn of the Eighth; in Ohio, Douglas, who beat Grosvenor for the Republican nomination. In Wisconsin, Babcock gives his seat to a Democrat; in Pennsylvania, Dale of the Tenth, Palmer of the Eleventh, and Samuel of the Sixteenth.

Joseph W. Babcock Defeated.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 8.—A gain of one congressman by the Democrats is the only change in the political complexion of Wisconsin over two years ago, as shown by the returns from Tuesday's election. This change is the defeat of Congressman Joseph W. Babcock, in the Third district, by James W. Murphy, by a plurality of several hundred votes.

Cowboys' Carnival.

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 8.—A three days' cowboys' carnival and roping contest began here today and has attracted large crowds from all over the southwest. Nearly a hundred cowboys are here and will take part in the roping contests for the world's championship, now held by J. Ellison Carroll, who will defend his title. Clay McGounagel, the former world's champion, is among the contestants.

Count Witte Doomed.

Moscow, Nov. 8.—It is reported here today that the "League of Combat Revolution" to which the murder of Deputy Harzenstein, in Finland last summer was ascribed, has sentenced former Premier Witte to death in event of his return to Russia.

Court Martial Sentences.

Odessa, Nov. 8.—The court martial which has been trying agitators indicted for instigating the revolt of the garrison at Odessa today sentenced two to be transported to Siberia and eight others to imprisonment at hard labor.

The Rigors of Cold Weather.

Probably at no time of the year does the physical condition of the body demand more attention than just at this season, the beginning of cold weather.

Let the system be run down, or the blood impoverished to any extent and the cold weather goes hard with you.
Naturally the thing to do is to get the circulation in good order, and the whole system toned up to stand the rigors of winter.

Some physicians prescribe the daily cold bath, others seek recourse in blood tonics and other stimulants, but, probably the most rational treatment of all is the Osteopathic, as Osteopathy more quickly, and more effectively rights the blood flow and restores normal conditions than any other known treatment.

Osteopathy is only a natural treatment, a method of bloodless surgical manipulations to remove any obstructions interfering with the proper transference of nerve force, or natural blood flow, or the other fluids, to the organ or part involved.

I should like to have you call and let me tell of some Paducah people whom you know well that Osteopathy has done much for, and also to tell you what it will do in your particular case.

Theatrical Notes

A Cohan Show.

Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger announce in this city under their direction on next Tuesday night the new music play, "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," by George M. Cohan, author of "Little Johnny Jones," "The Governor's Son" and
"George Washington, Jr." It is described as a great novelty, comprising comedy drama, burlesque, melodrama and musical comedy, all cleverly interwoven into a most interesting story possessed of an unusual degree of novelty. In the conception of the tale, selection of characters and originality of situations, Mr. Cohan has shown the same remarkable genius for getting together novelties and surprises that was noticeable in his popular "Little Johnny Jones." The entire book and lyrics are his own, as well as the music, and in addition he is said to have cast the piece and rehearsed the company personally. The story is told in three scenes, the locale of which is New Rochelle, a suburb of New York, just forty-five minutes from Broadway by rail—hence the title. The scenes represent the exterior of the Castleton mansion in the morning; the drawing room of the same in the evening, and the railroad station the next morning.
Corinne plays the role of Plain Mary, a servant in the Castleton household, a character unique in its conception giving to Corinne excellent opportunities for the display of her versatility, as there are several situations in which she is reported to have shown considerable emotional power. Revolving around Mary in the development of the story are a young millionaire, a sourette—Flora Dora Dean, with a mercenary mamma, a young district attorney, several local celebrities and "Kid" Burns a young man who has long basked in the white lights of Broadway and who finally comes to New Rochelle as the private secretary of the newly bedded millionaire. This work is regarded by all who have seen it as Mr. Cohan's best play.

Pleasant Events.

"Reasons Why"—Dyspepsia

Self-poisoning is the most common form of disease. Not with drug poisons, but with the poison made inside the body—uric acid.

Every good physician now knows that uric acid causes Dyspepsia, all stomach troubles and nine-tenths of all diseases.

So, avoiding disease or curing disease plainly depends on driving out the uric acid.

HOW URIC ACID CAUSES DISEASE

Improper food causes what your physician calls congestion.

He means that the tiny blood vessels in your stomach are affected and the blood is unable to pass through them.

So at once the little grains of uric acid in your blood become lodged and work their way into the tissues of the stomach.

The irritation and congestion that follows is named Dyspepsia, indigestion, ulcer of the stomach, etc. The cause is always uric acid.

This is the "Reason Why" of all stomach trouble. The cure is the removal of the uric acid. The proof is the thousands who have been cured.

LIFE PLANT DRIVES OUT URIC ACID

LIFE PLANT is a preparation of seven herbs, scientifically prepared to dissolve uric acid—and it does it.

In whatever part of your body the uric acid is deposited, whether in the stomach, or kidneys, or liver, LIFE PLANT dissolves it out.

LIFE PLANT purifies the blood—heals the stomach—helps it to digest food and drives all poison out of the system.

LIFE PLANT is not a patent medicine and contains no harmful drugs.
It is a specific for all diseases of the stomach—a natural, harmless solvent for uric acid.

URIC ACID SYMPTOMS

Sour stomach, belching, pain in the stomach, and poor digestion. These are the forerunners of serious stomach trouble. Headache, biliousness, backache, and menstrual disorders—all show uric acid to be at work.

If you have any stomach trouble, cure yourself by driving out the cause of disease. Take LIFE PLANT.

It is the common sense remedy—a natural tonic and solvent of uric acid.

Pabst Beer

Most Popular

American People Appreciate Clean, Wholesome Beverage.

With the increased consumption of beer the public is becoming more and more discriminating. Once upon a time beer was beer, but now we are becoming very particular what we drink in the way of beer. Each brewer makes his own particular brand or brands, each with its own particular flavor, color and other marked characteristics. While the process of brewing is the same in general it is not at all the same in particular.

In this it might be well to know that Pabst is recognized in this country and abroad as the pioneer in perfecting the cleanest process for making beer as well as being the leader in the science of brewing. It was Pabst who first recognized not alone the desirability, but the necessity of absolute cleanliness in brewing, cooling and aging beer. Today he leads in the cleanliness of his process. Pabst beer is not cooled in open rooms where men walk in and out, but in sealed coolers where only filtered air can reach it. Pabst Beer is not aged in open vats but in sealed tanks where it stays until science shows it perfect in age, purity and strength.

Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is always exactly the same. The exquisite flavor never changes, because Pabst yeast with which Pabst beer is fermented is always grown from the original mother cell in Pasteur tubes and tanks, where there is not the slightest chance for outside contamination. It is always made from Pabst exclusive 8-day malt grown under the watchful eyes of trained scientists who make it just the same and just right every time. Only the choicest imported hops are used, thus it is rich in tonic properties. It never leaves the brewery until fully aged and perfect in purity and strength—the cleanest beer brewed.

Thus it is in these days of discrimination Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is the most popular beer with the doctors and the people who value its richness and its cleanliness.

MOODY FOR BENCH OF SUPREME COURT

President Roosevelt Announces Appointment.

Hitchcock Will Retire From Interior Portfolio to Be Succeeded By Garfield.

HERBERT SMITH PROMOTED

Washington, Nov. 8.—The president today announced the appointment of Attorney General Moody as justice of the supreme court of the United States to succeed Justice Brown, who retired some time ago. Moody has filled the office of attorney general since July, 1904. Previous to that time he had served more than two years as secretary of the navy. He had also represented his state in Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth and the Fifty-seventh congresses. It is generally expected that Moody will retire from the department of justice the latter part of December.

Hitchcock Soon to Retire. Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock will retire from the cabinet on the fourth of March and James R. Garfield, of Ohio at present commissioner of corporations, will succeed him.

Herbert Knox Smith, now assistant commissioner of corporations, will be appointed in Mr. Garfield's place. These changes and that of the retirement of Commissioner Richards, of the general land office on March 4th, were announced at the white house today.

Upon notifying that he wished to retire Hitchcock was offered the ambassadorship to France but this he declined for the same reason that induced him to withdraw from the cabinet—the need of absolute rest.

CANADA BLOCKS HINDU CUSTOM

Orientalists Send Their Dead to Seattle for Cremation.

Seattle, Nov. 8.—Unable to secure permission from the Canadian officials to cremate their dead according to their religious beliefs, the Hindu residents of Western Canada are sending their dead to this city for cremation. After cremation the dust is scattered over the sea.

According to the Hindu rights the dead body must be covered with oil and placed on wood, covered with brush and burned until not even the bones remain. The Canadian officials are having considerable trouble with these orientalists, who are now flooding British Columbia. The latter are again taking up the matter with the officials in regard to the erection of a Hindu crematorium, but there is small chance of success. They say that the cremation system used in Seattle is not in accord with their religion.

To Panama. Washington, Nov. 8.—The president's trip to Panama on which he started this afternoon will be an absolute novelty in American history. For the first time since the Union was established its president will set foot on foreign soil. The president purposely chose the rainy season in Panama for his trip as he wants to see the isthmus at its worst.

TEXAS FACTIONS IN A BATTLE

District Judge Killed and Others Wounded at Rio Grande City.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 8.—Meager reports have been received of a bloody riot between political factions at Rio Grande City. District Judge Stanley Welch was shot and instantly killed and three others wounded. Governor Lanham has been wired to send troops, and it is likely the State Rangers will be ordered to the border towns. The riot and killing were the outcome of a decision rendered by Judge Welch last week in a Star county political case, in which the two factions were contestants. Judge Welch had been on the bench 30 years.

K. OF P.

GAVE NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT LAST EVENING.

Revel to Their Ladies and Friends Mysteries of Ancient Order of Hercules.

The social session held at Castle Hall last evening by Paducah lodge, No. 26, Knights of Pythias, was a success in every way, the hall being well filled with invited guests.

Amusement out of the ordinary had been provided. After an impromptu introductory program, a lodge burlesque, or complete expose of the mysteries and ceremonies of the Ancient Order of Hercules, including the initiation of a candidate, was given.

The dramatic personae follows: Highly Illustrious Grand High Kaidink—A. E. Young.

Laird or Waballa—Alex Kulp. Just and Conscientious Knight—W. H. F. Peper.

Grand and Mighty Executioner—Will Reed.

Pre-eminent Prime Counsellor—R. L. Palmer.

Custodian of Dispatches—Melville Byrd.

Particularly Distinguished Quartermaster—A. S. Barksdale.

Assiduous Marshal—Lawrence Gleaves.

Principal Musician—A. E. Stein.

Reliable and Trustworthy Sentinels—Owen Grubbs and L. M. Brooks.

Candidate—H. J. Bookhammer.

Guards Etc.—Members of order.

The burlesque was a fun-provoker all the way through, and as each participant acquitted himself creditably, the presentation was much enjoyed, especially by the ladies present.

During intermissions and at the close of the burlesque delightful refreshments were served. The event of last evening is the first of a series of social meetings to be held at intervals during the coming winter. The Knights of Pythias lodge in Paducah expects to "grow some" in the next few months.

SOUVENIRS

WERE EXHAUSTED BY LARGE NUMBER OF GUESTS.

Over Five Thousand People Attend Opening of F. N. Gardner & Company.

It would be hard to conceive of a more thoroughly pleased and good natured crowd than that which attended the first annual opening of the F. N. Gardner, Jr., company's handsome new store, 117-118 South Third street, yesterday afternoon and evening. From the number of souvenirs given away, Mr. Gardner estimates that more than 5,000 people were in the store during the day.

The souvenirs were especially handsome, being in the form of a daintily decorated plaque. But early in the action these were snapped up by the eager crowd and carnations and framed pictures were given instead. The $35 Hoosier kitchen cabinet, for which the drawing was held shortly before 9 o'clock, was won by Miss Lena Hodges, 521 South Sixth street, who held ticket No. 3882.

Mr. Gardner and his salesmen were kept busy receiving congratulations on the variety and beauty of the furniture and house furnishings displayed, the attractiveness of the decorations and the huge success of the opening. The rich polished surfaces of the furniture mirrored back hundreds of lights, softened and toned by rich hangings and handsome rugs. On the whole, it was a fine show, with a large and enthusiastic attendance, and Mr. Gardner thanks his friends for their interest.

Spilled milk of human kindness is the only kind worth crying over.

LAST LINK IN THE GIGANTIC SYSTEM

Ocean To Ocean And Lakes To The Gulf.

Harriman's Ambitious Project Almost Completed in Control of the Illinois Central.

IMMENSE VALUE OF HOLDING

New York, Nov. 8.—By the election yesterday of J. T. Harahan as president of the Illinois Central to succeed Stuyvesant Fish, it is believed that E. H. Harriman has at last realized the fulfillment of his plan to control a railroad from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In this great plan the Illinois Central was the one link missing to complete the line from New York to San Francisco and Portland, Ore., and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf and to the Pacific again.

Until within a few months ago the eastern terminals of the Harriman system were at Kansas City, Omaha and New Orleans.

The first important step in the direction of securing the desired outlet on the Atlantic seaboard for the Union and Southern Pacific is believed to have been taken by Harriman several weeks, when it was reported that one of the roads under his control had taken over control at that time of the Baltimore and Ohio by the purchase of 40,000 shares from the Pennsylvania railroad. This would give Harriman a route from Chicago and St. Louis to Baltimore and New York.

I. C. Makes Route Complete.

To complete the ambitious proposition for a continuous line from ocean to ocean, it was necessary only to connect the western terminals of the Baltimore and Ohio with the eastern terminal of the Southern and Union Pacific and for this purpose the Illinois Central was all that was necessary. Its lines from Omaha to Chicago, ties together the Union Pacific and the Baltimore and Ohio, while the Illinois Central branch from Chicago to New Orleans gives the Southern Pacific entrance into Chicago and the east.

Taken together, this system, if united puts under one control more than 23,000 miles of track, capitalized at more than $1,700,000,000.

and he knew that it was Joseph, probably making one of those marvelous long shots of his which roused a sudden sigh of envy in the heart of this mighty hunter whenever he witnessed them.

Oscar immediately went to his tent and came out with his short barreled

"It isn't good enough. That's what I evil looking rifle on his arm. He fired waited, standing gravely on the edge of the plateau. After a short silence two answering reports rose through the mist to his straining ears.

He turned and found Victor Durnovo standing at his side.

"What is that?" asked the half breed.

"It must be Joseph," answered Guy.

"Or Meredith. It can be nobody else."

"Let us hope that it is Meredith," said Durnovo, with a forced laugh.

"But I doubt it."

Oscar looked down in his sallow, powerful face. He was not quick at such things, but at that moment he felt strangely certain that Victor Dur-novov was hoping that Meredith was dead.

"I hope it isn't," he answered, and without another word he strode away down the little pathway from the summit into the clouds, loading his rifle

as he went.

Durnovo and his men, working among the simline bushes, heard from time to time a signal shot as the two Englishmen grouped their way toward each other through the everlasting night of the African forest.

It was midday before the newcomers were espied making their way painfully up the slope, and Joseph's welcome was not so much in Durnovo's handshake, in Guy Oscar's silent approval, as in the row of grinning, good natured black faces behind Durnovo's back.

Joseph's arrival with ten new men seemed to give a fresh zest to the work, and the carefully packed cases of simline began to fill Oscar's tent to some inconvenience. This thing went on for two tranquil weeks.

"First," Oscar had said, "let us get the crop in, and then we can arrange what is to be done about the future."

So the crop received due attention, but the two leaders of the men—who led by fear and he who commanded by love—were watching each other.

One evening when the work was done Oscar's meditations were dis-

Oscar listened attentively and suddenly he was thrown upon his feet by a pistol shot.

At the same moment Joseph emerged from behind the tent, dragging some one by the collar. The victim of Joseph's violence was off his feet, but still struggling and kicking.

Guy Oscar saw the flash of a second shot, apparently within a few inches of Joseph's face, but he came on, dragging the man with him, whom from his clothing Oscar saw to be Durnovo.

Joseph was spitting out wadding and burned powder.

"Shoot me, would you, yer skulking chocolate bird? I'll teach you! I'll twist that brown neck of yours."

He shook him as a terrier shakes a rat, and seemed to shake things off him—among others a revolver, which described a circle in the air and fell heavily on the ground, where the concussion discharged a cartridge.

"Here, sir," cried Joseph, literally throwing Durnovo down on the ground

at Oscar's feet, "that man has just shot one of them poor niggers, so

"elp me God!"

Durnovo rose slowly to his feet, as if the shaking had disturbed his facilities.

"Oh, don't make a fool of yourself," he said in a hissing voice; "you don't understand these natives at all. The man raised his hand to me. He would have killed me if he had had the chance. Shooting was the only thing left to do. You can only hold these men by fear. They expect it."

"Of course they expect it," shouted

Joseph in his face; "of course they expect it, Mr. Durnovo."

"Why?"

"Because they're slaves. Think I don't know that?"

He turned to Oscar.

"This man, Mr. Oscar," he said, "is a slave owner. Them forty that joined at Misla was slaves. He's shot two of 'em now; this is his second. And what does he care? They're his slaves.

Oh, shame on yer!" turning again to Durnovo. "I wonder God lets yer stand there. I can only think that he doesn't want to dirty his hand by strikin' yer down."

Oscar had taken his pipe from his lips. He looked bigger, somehow, than ever. His brown face was turning to an ashen color and there was a dull, steel-like gleam in his blue eyes. The terrible, slow kindling anger of this northerner made Durnovo catch his breath. It was so different from the sudden passion of his own countrymen.

"Is this true?" he asked.

"It's a lie, of course," answered Dur-novov, with a shrug of the shoulders.

He moved away as if he were going to his tent, but Oscar's arm reached out. His large brown hand fell heavily on the half breed's shoulder.

"Stay," he said; "we are going to

to the bottom of this."

"Good," muttered Joseph, rubbing his hands slowly together; "this is prime."

"Go on," said Oscar to him.

"Where's the wages you and Mr.

Meredith has paid him for those forty men?" pursued Joseph. "Where's the advance you made him for those men at Misla? Not one ha'penny of it have they fingered. And why? Cos they're slaves! Fifteen months at £50—let them as can reckon tot it up for themselves. That's his first swindle—and there's others, sir! Oh, there's more behind. That man's just a hot-bed o' crime. But this 'ere slave owning is enough to settle his hash, I take it."

"Let us have these men here; we will hear what they have to say," said Oscar in the same dull tone that frightened Victor Durnovo.

"Not you," he went on, laying his hand on Durnovo's shoulder again;

"Joseph will fetch them, thank you."

So the forty—or the thirty-seven survivors, for one had died on the journey up and two had been murdered—were brought. They were peaceful, timorous men, whose manhood seemed to have been crushed out of them; and slowly, word by word, their grim story was got out of them. Joseph knew a little of their language, and one of the head-fighting men knew a little more and spoke a dialect known to Oscar. They were slaves, they said at once, but only on Oscar's promise that Durnovo should not be allowed to shoot them. They had been brought from the north by a victorious chief who in turn had handed them over to Victor Durnovo in payment of an outstanding debt for ammunition supplied.

"I leave this place at sunrise tomorrow," said Guy Oscar to them all. "I never want to see it again. I will not touch one penny of the money that has been made. I speak for Mr. Meredith and myself."

"Likewise me," put in Joseph.

"I speak as Mr. Meredith himself would have spoken. There is the sim-line. You can have it. I won't touch

it. And now who is going with me—who leaves with me tomorrow morning?"

He moved away from Durnovo.

"And who stays with me," cried the half breed, "to share and share alike in the simline?"

Joseph followed Oscar, and with him a certain number of the blacks,

but some stayed. Some went to Dur-novov and stood beside him. The slaves spoke among themselves, and then they all went over to Durnovo.

across the Desert of Sahara, and in connection with that work is making thorough geological and biological surveys. Within another year anybody will be able to send a telegram to Timbuctoo which, to the popular mind, is an imaginary place, beyond the reach of human civilization. But Timbuctoo promises to become a commercial center of great importance, and the reports of the survey of the great desert are correcting many popular delusions concerning that part of the universe.

While I was in Paris a few weeks ago the minister of colonies and his assistants gave me some very interesting information about these matters. The telegraph line is being built and the surveys are being conducted under the immediate direction of the governor general of Algeria, and if you will open your atlas and turn to a map of Africa you can trace the route. The wires will run from the City of Algiers across the sandy waste down to the oasis of Toisat, which is a very important point. From there they will follow a caravan trail that has been used for centuries south of the Abagar Mountains, and thence westward to Timbuctoo and thence follow the river bank to the port of Dakar on the Atlantic coast.

In the province of Senegal, the work began last winter, and has been going on nearly nine months.
Many precautions and considerable preparation were necessary, but thus far no great difficulties have been encountered. All water, provisions materials and everything that is needed must be carried in on the backs of camels, and supply trains are passing to and fro with great regularity between Algiers and Timbuctoo and the camping grounds of the several parties.

The manual labor is being done by natives from desert tribes until recently in a savage state, and five years ago they would have cheerfully slaughtered any white man or Christian who ventured among them.
The early explorers used to stain their faces and profess to be followers of Mohammed. In that way they gradually gained the confidence of the wandering tribes and obtained permission to make their explorations and survey a route for the telegraph line. Thirty years ago a similar work was done in Siberia.

General Anson Stagar, of Cleveland, superintendent of that division of the Western Union Telegraph line, stretched a wire from the Ural Mountains to Kamchatka across the snowy steppes of northern Siberia.
He followed very nearly the same trail that is now occupied by the great Siberian railroad. The work was much more difficult and therefore the achievement was much greater than that which is now going on in northern Africa. The dangers and difficulties were several times as great.

Explorations.

The explorations of the French have demonstrated that the great desert is not such a frightful place as has been represented, and the world will be compelled to revise its ideas, as has been the case with the great American desert. With irrigation everything in the way of plant life will grow with luxuriance in the desert sands of northern Africa, and, what is even more strange, those sands are mixed with seeds of a great variety of plants which have been lying dormant for centuries. Like the grains of wheat found in the sarcophagi of the Egyptian kings, they still retain their vitality and will germinate promptly when the soil is moistened.

There seems to be no doubt that the desert of Sahara was once inhabited by a large population; that the dry water courses of today were once great rivers, and the deep basins, many of them several hundred feet below the level of the sea, were formerly lakes which have evaporated in the dry air and in the heat of sun since their sources of supply were cut off by the directing sands. The rivers have vanished for similar reasons. The springs which fed them have been choked and filled with sand, and there being no rainfall, or at least very little, the water courses have lain dry ever since.

The present condition of the desert is due entirely to the causes described, and the explorers assert that much of it may be reclaimed with comparatively little trouble and expense. Their experimental borings have determined that the entire surface of the desert, at least so far as the investigations have extended, is underlain by subterranean streams and reservoirs which can be reached by sinking wells at depths varying from 200 to 2,000 feet, according to the altitude of the point where the boring is made.
Numerous dry springs have been found along the caravan trail, which have been choked up with sand so that the water has been forced to find an outlet below instead of above the surface. These discoveries have enabled the French explorers to establish camps along the trail for the benefit of the caravans and to introduce the cultivation of dates, which are the staple product of the desert, to a much larger extent than at present. Palm groves are being planted around all the wells and shelter-houses are being erected.

There are many sheep, goats and cattle in the desert and flocks and herds are driven across the trail every year to market. This has been done for ages. The explorers have found photographs carved in the rocks in prehistoric times in which goats, sheep and cattle, as well as camels, appear, and evidences that oxen were even used for transportation purposes.

There is a good deal of wild game in the desert wherever water and food can be found. It comes over from the mountains of east Africa.
They abound in animal life—lions, giraffes, wild boar, antelope, gazelles and wild cattle.

Terrors of the Selkirts.

The snowfall in the Selkirts is something astounding. They tell of twenty, forty, or even sixty feet of fall in a single winter. One wholly reliable prospector, holding down a "grabstake," told us of measuring the fall each morning before it settled, during two months, February and March, and his figures were crowded up to eighteen feet. But these immense depths, fluffy and feathery, soon settle and evaporate, so that it remains as six or eight feet of solid snow. Over this depth they go on snowshoes and break sleigh roads over it, while in the mountains it makes snowfields and glaciers. On every side that day, on summits yet higher than ours, and on others lower, were glaciers formed of the vast snowfields piled up, drifted over crevasses and filled into the gorges. In the nights we had heard the thunderous report when some glacier calved, loosening great masses of ice that would slide down to lower spaces.

Standing in our tracks that day we counted no less than thirty-eight glaciers with the naked eye, the farthest not more than ten or twelve miles away, while ranges twenty and even forty miles away were also the home of glaciers, we knew, but they were hardly distinguishable even with our field glasses. The glaciers form at the lower edge of the great snowfields, either down some gorge or along the whole face of a mountain side. From under their foot flows a stream, largest in the afternoons, milky white from the grinding of the ice over the rocks. Huge blocks of rock are often carried on the top of the ice, which being loosened as the sun thaws the obstructions, roll down below, making a spire of danger if one is near the foot of the glacier.

A fall of 0.3 was registered this morning, the stage being 6.3. Business at the wharf was dull. A slight sprinkle of rain fell last night and the continued warm weather indicates rain soon. It is needed.

The J. B. Richardson arrived yesterday afternoon late from St. Louis on the way to Nashville with a load of apples, 800 barrels. The Richardson has been in the trade in the Mississippi river above St. Louis for some time and comes here now to enter the Nashville-Evansville trade with the steamer Electra. Captain William Hunter is in charge and Nathan Smith was in the pilot house from St. Louis to this city. The Richardson left today for Nashville after receiving supplies.

While coming round the curve at the head of Owen's island at Livingston point, the towboat Jim Duffy got six barges of ties aground. The river is low there and the curve was too sharp. Pilot Jim Till was at the wheel and Captain T. E. Buckingham was in command. The Duffy came on to the city yesterday and this morning went back to pull the barges into the river.

The Kentucky will be due from the Tennessee river tonight and will lie over till Saturday. The Clyde had a big trip yesterday for the Tennessee and business in the Tennessee river will be bigger since the Shiloh has withdrawn for repairs.

The United States steamer Golden Rod arrived last night from the Ohio river and after coaling left this morning on an inspection trip to Cairo. Saturday the Golden Rod will return and leave Monday on an inspection trip up the Tennessee river. Commander J. H. Oliver, U. S. N., is conducting the inspection. Captain H. M. Horton is in command. The Golden Rod on these trips, pays off the light keepers, leaves supplies, and establishes new lights.

The Dick Fowler had a light trip to Cairo this morning.

Low water and little labor made the Joe Fowler late yesterday, not arriving from Evansville till 8 o'clock. Coming over the shoals a bolt broke out necessitating a call on a blacksmith here, and the Joe Fowler did not get away until 11 o'clock. The John S. Hopkins is due today.

New ferry docks are being built at the wharf for the Bettie Owen. The present docks are old and water-logged.

Mrs. John Streckfus, of Rock Island, Ill. Captain Streckfus is the owner of the steamer J. S. and other boats well known here. Miss Streckfus will be married November 21 to Mr. Fowler Manning of New Orleans.

Captain A. J. Powell has resigned from the position of superintendent of the Barrett line, according to the Courier-Journal, and Captain Johnson Barrett will succeed him. Captain Powell and associates, of Memphis, have purchased the steamer Louisiana and other boats, presumably to start a line somewhere.

Captain Young Taylor of the dry docks is having an office built on the docks for use in the cold weather.

The U. S. Golden Rod has what is technically known as a "staggered wheel." Instead of the buckets running clear across the wheel, they extend to the center of the shaft from one side and to the center from the other side, and the two ends do not meet at the center but sandwich each other. At a distance the wheel looks like it is in two parts. This arrangement reduces the jar on the boat from the wheel, but is hard on the shaft. The steamers Edgar Cherry and formerly the John S. Hopkins have "staggered wheels."

The government fleet at work on the river bank at Eliza Towhead, above Cairo, on the Mississippi river, broke from its moorings yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and floated down stream. The mattress was wrecked on a dike which extends into the river some distance below the towhead, and the barges floated down the river, but were caught near Birds Point by the tug Theseus, with Captain George Spence at the wheel and were towed back to their proper moorings unharmed. — Cairo Bulletin.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio from Evansville to Paducah, will remain practically stationary during the next two days. A Cairo will continue falling slowly.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, will continue falling slowly. The stage at Florence will fall to below 2 feet by Thursday night or Friday morning.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo, no material change.
